

You Are Invited to Apply...

to show and demonstrate your art form in the annual event, ColorFest, Art of the Blue Ridge. With your art displayed in a shop on Main Street, Sylva, North Carolina, from October 1 until the culminating art festival on October 22, your creativity will be spotlighted during the beautiful Fall Color Season in western North Carolina.

Interacting with the public from 10 am until 4 pm on October 22, you have the opportunity show how your art is created and to sell your work as well.

You must be able to demonstrate your art for the public.

Your art form should reflect the nature and/or heritage of the southern Appalachian Mountains.

10% of your art sales will benefit Catch the Spirit of Appalachia's Scholarship Fund for Appalachian youth. A $25 entry fee helps cover the event production.
